EDITORIAL CLIPPINGS

But who will make the big "League of Peace" keep it?
—Boston Transcript.

China is now in a position to appreciate the high cost of peace at any price.—Boston Transcript.

Mr. Bryan is the editor who knows how to make the news, as well as comment on it.—Columbia State.

Mr. Bryan gave up being secretary of state to become secretary of statements.—New York Morning Telegraph.

South American revolutions overlooked in the rush will be written up in the annual almanacs.—Washington Post.

Of course, one has to keep in mind the practically inexhaustible territory Russia has to fall back on.—Washington Post.

The American dollar is now worth $1.0275, its first effort, that we can recall, to catch up with the H. C. of L.—Boston Transcript Saving of 1,000 tons of coal by shutting off six of the Lusitania's boilers didn't even save the coal.—St. Louis Globe Democart.

Youthful students of scriptural and modern history will never be able to reconcile the two Bethlehems.—Washington Post.

Winston Spencer Churchill says the British navy is growing, which must be one reason for being so careful about it.—New York Tribune.

One thing the jitney certainly has done—it has enabled the street-car motorman to see a prospective passenger sooner than formerly.—Dallas News.

General Huerta himself will admit that if he ever before had any doubt of the warmth of American hospitality it has been removed.—New York World.

Lloyd-George would apparently change the familiar quotation to read: "Heaven is on the side of the biggest ammunition factory."—Chicago Herald.

It begins to look as if Italy were going to do the really heroic thing in this war. She will rush to the help of the victors.—New York Morning Telegraph.

If that Chicago convention of advertising men doesn't quit repeating "Truth" in their slogan, some people may wonder what they have been giving us heretofore.—Atlantic City Review.

A London newspaper has by vote of its readers chosen the twelve Englishmen who can at least be spared at this crisis. Lloyd-George runs first and King George gets in as No. 12.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

Now that the Yaqui Indians have declared war on the United States and Germany, we should forget our differences regarding submarine warfare and unite to crush the common enemy.—Nashville Southern Lumberman.

COST REVIEW

The sum and substance of the matter is that the valley farmers are so prejudiced against the U. S. Reclamation Service and government promises generally that even the efforts of this newspaper cannot change them, and the sincere desire of Secretary Franklin K. Lane to give 'em a square deal is looked upon with suspicion.

The Examiner would trust Secretary Lane to the fullest extent; but not so with those who have the whip hand in the Yuma County Water Users' Association.

Possibly, twenty years from now, after countless good dollars shall have been wasted in legal tangles, the new generation will agree with the Examiner's contention, and the pioneers of today can look back with regret on a mistaken policy.

And it isn't too late yet to avoid such a blunder. Listen: Why is Yuma different than twenty-three other projects that have joined hands with our honored secretary of the interior? Yuma valley is the only unit of any project that has agreed not to agree to meet Secretary Lane in an open and above-board, fair and square, daylight appraisalment of project costs.

With their mouths, Yuma water users condemn the treatment they have received from the local Reclamation Service; but by inaction, at this time, they endorse it.

It is inconceivable that even twenty-five per cent of the people of Yuma valley unit are satisfied with such inaction, but the per cent appears to be large enough to control the majority, including our learned attorney, Mr. Ingraham!

OLD SELFISH SHOWS HOW THE MONEY GOES

Old Man Selfish dropped into the Examiner office the other day to ask us to extend his subscription bill for sixty days. The following conversation ensued:

Editor—What are you doing in town today Mr. Selfish.

O. S.—Come in to buy some stuff for the old lady, but after I got some tobacco and played a few games of pool with the boys and ordered a box of mail-order cigars, I didn't have no money left. Wimmen folks is always wantin' something foolish anyway.

Ed.—How was your crop?

O. S.—Fine! Biggest I ever had. The missus wanted me to buy a "White Beauty" kitchen cabinet at Sanguinetti's, with some of the money—said they would save her a good many steps; but there's a piece of land I guess I'll buy instead.

Ed.—Thought you had all the land you wanted?

O. S.—Well, I don't need this parcel, specially, but I reckon the old lady can get along well enough for another year or two.

Ed.—I suppose you're going to the state fair?

O. S.—You bet. Wouldn't miss it. My wife's exhibiting some fruits and needlework, and she wanted to go down and see the prizes awarded, but I told her she'd better stay at home with the kids this year.

Ed.—Did you get that new water-works plant installed in your house this year?

O. S.—No. That was another of my wife's ideas. I reckon we don't really need it. The Mrs. is purty strong, and she's plenty able to tote water for a few more years.

Ed.—Going home tonight?

O. S.—Nope. Going to stay around and see the picture show. I want to look at Jed Beams' team, too; think I'll buy it, and a new gun. The wife wants me to get her some stuff for a new Sunday dress, but the one she's been wearing looks all right to me so I guess she'll have to wait until next year. Well, so long. See you later. It does beat anything how extravagant women are these days' don't it?

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Yuma Readers Have This Experience

You tax the kidneys — overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back may give out—it may ache and pain;

Urinary troubles may set in.

Don't wait any longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Residents of this vicinity endorse them.

Can Yuma people doubt the following evidence?

Mrs. A. Spann, 1646 Front St., San Diego, Cal., says: "Several years ago, I suffered from backache and it steadily got worse. I also had trouble with the kidney secretions. I didn't sleep well and felt all tired out. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthened my kidneys, removed the pains in my back and cured the other kidney disorders. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills once in a while keep my kidneys in good shape."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Spann had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

BEETLE HUNTING IS GOOD NEAR TUCSON

(Special to the Yuma Daily Examiner)

TUCSON, July 20.—Beetle hunting in the mountains around Tucson is good at this season of the year; and Charles Dury of Cincinnati, who has a collection of 150,000 specimens is here to add to the number. He will first try for the game in Stone Cabin canyon in the Santa Rita mountains. It is a small and rare beetle that Dury is after, only a sixteenth of an inch long. There are no game laws governing beetles. In fact the government has experts constantly in the field studying them in order to combat havoc they wreak in the pine forests.

Dury has studied beetles in every state of the Union except Arizona and California.

"Arizona has more species of insect life than any state in the union and more remarkable insects," said he. "It would take many years of constant work and investigation to make anything like a complete collections of specimens of Arizona insect fauna."

Judge J. L. Rief, former Yuma old timer, now of Brawley, is here, shaking hands with old friends.
